CRACKING DOWN ON SOUTHEND THIEVES

By Karen Davis

HUNDREDS of burglaries in Southend have prompted a police crackdown.

Operation Steel 2 aims to target the thieves breaking in to Southend's commercial and out-buildings.

The move follows 266 break-ins between September 1 and December 14.

Patrolling officers will be on the lookout for suspicious activity while offering crime prevention advice to locals.

Victoria ward neighbourhood officer, PC Pierre Guilcher, said: "We would advise residents to keep anything of value inside their homes rather than in sheds or garages and always ensure that out-buildings are securely locked up."

"If you see anyone acting suspiciously in gardens or near sheds or garages, please report it to the police straight away."

Officers will be increasing the number of 'high-visibility' patrols around the areas most affected by burglaries.

Among the worst hit areas are Blenheim, Victoria and Milton wards.

A large number of shed burglaries in Leigh have also been linked to the Manchester Drive allotments - an area the size of Chalkwell Park.

Allotment-holders are advised not to store valuables in their sheds.

Sgt Gary Lane oversees the team that polices the allotments.

He said: "As well as increasing our patrols in the area, the neighbourhood officers have set up police surgeries to engage with owners and offer crime prevention advice and assistance."

Anyone with information about who is committing this type of offence should contact their local neighbourhood policing team on 0300 333 4444 or via the team mobile phone.

Victoria and Milton ward officers can be contacted on 07817 968114. Blenheim ward officers can be reached on 07817 968093.

Ghost Story Competition 2010

All winners' stories are published online at www.yellowad.co.uk

Ghost story winner crowned

GHOST STORY COMPETITION WINNER. The Saviour by Jackie Stacey, of Basildon

THE girl is young - 16 - pretty, but unremarkable, easily forgotten. The figure in the trees watches silently as she walks through his killing field.

He raises his nose into the air and breathes deeply closing his eyes in appreciation of the young woman's scent. As the full moon slides behind invisible clouds, his eyes change; no longer green, but an inhuman yellow, they elongate in his head and he sees all.

The girl is in trouble but maybe she does not know that yet. Maybe she doesn't know not to come here after dark. It is a bad place; creatures we pretend don't exist prowl here, sure-footedly, avoiding leaves that would crunch beneath human feet.

The girl catches her arm on a sharp twig and juicy beads of blood pop up along the shallow wound, though she seems not to notice. She quickens her pace, glancing over her shoulder feeling the ancient thrill of fear surge through her veins. Yes, she knows, instinct laid down over generations shouts in her head - RUN!

The man who has been watching is no longer a man. The changes are complete. Now, instead of raising a nose to sniff the air, he raises a long muzzle. Where once there was smooth pink skin, there is now matted grey fur. His body is wiry and ready and when he starts after the girl he drops to all fours and races towards her like a wolf, a werewolf.

The girl feels him coming, pounding paws and panting mouth bear down on her, with her heart bursting out of her chest she desperately searches the tree-line for The Saviour. Would he come?

That thin line of blood is calling to the monster, pounding in his head and boiling through his veins. Closer and closer until the shrieks of its excitement are all the girl can hear.

Breathing down her neck now he leaps, and during the time it takes for his feet to leave the ground and the second his teeth would rip out her throat someone slips between them and with a quick, upward thrust punctures the beast's heart, killing him instantly.

During the monster's last breath, he reverts to his human form and falls to the ground.

The girl is trembling now, tears leaking from her eyes as she looks at the dead man. An inexplicable sadness in her eyes.

The Saviour whispers: "You are safe now. I protect these woods from his kind ever since they took my life."

He pulls the shirt away from his neck revealing deep, bloodless gashes in his ghostly flesh.

"They have not killed another since that day," he beckons kindly with open arms.

"I know," she murmurs, stepping into his embrace and holding him tightly.

"And that's why he gave his life, so we can stop youuu!"

The last word is a howl, changes happen fast and when the moon appears from behind the cloud it bathes the newly changed she-wolf in silvery light.

CHILDREN'S GHOST STORY THIRD PLACE. How I Died by Ella Osbourne, Year 8 at Shoeburyness High School

Dear Reader,

The story you are about to read was my nightmare, one I'm not likely to forget. I hope you decide that you don't want to read on, and if so, screw it up and throw it under the bed where it belongs.

Before my horrifying death, I had a good life, a great father, funny friends and a brilliant boyfriend. But on November 20, 1988, that all ended, when he arrived.

Z.B

I WAS sitting on my leather armchair, reading Wuthering Heights, my cat Beelzebub purring on my lap.

My father sat in his usual chair right in front of the fire. A glass of brandy clutched in one hand, cigar smoke billowing over the top of his chair.

I finished my book for the third time in a row and closed it with a thud, placing it on the ground by my feet.

He shifted in his seat; he stared at me grinning, his eyes twinkling, his black hair shining by the light of the fire.

"What you up to Trouble?" he teased. I opened my mouth in mock horror.

"Me? Trouble? Never," I said, trying unsuccessfully to stifle a yawn.

"Bed I think," he said, taking another puff from his cigar.

"Yeah, you're right," I said, stretching. "Couldn't have put it better myself."

I shuffled over, hugged dad before dragging myself upstairs. I pulled on cotton shorts and Seth's old tee-short before collapsing on my bed.

It must have been 9.30pm when the first creak of thunder woke me up.

Cursing loudly at the weather I grabbed my glass of water and downed the whole lot, giving little peace to my sore throat.

I lay, eyes closed, listening to the rain hammering on my windows. Then the door creaked open and I growled as someone walked in closing the door behind them.

"Ever as much as I love our usual fights on whose clothes are whose, can you please save it for a more reasonable hour and not in the middle of the night," I almost yelled. She didn't reply.

I hauled myself up and found I was staring up at a blank face covered in shadows. What I did next signed my own death-wish.

I pushed him out the way and ran, wrenched the window open and climbed down the tree.

I was half way down the front garden when I ran into him.

He took my arm and raised it to his lips and bit it.

Intense pain hit me and spread slowly down my body as I writhed in agony.

"Why?" I hit the floor.

"You chose him over me, that's why," he spat at me through gritted teeth.

"No," I whimpered, gazing up into Jared's face, darkened with jealousy, tears streaming down my face.

"Yeah, think of this like Othello where I'm him and you're Desdemona."

He gave a cruel laugh as a raven flew over us cawing, signalling my death.

I tried to speak, but it came out as a gurgle, then darkness drowned me.

GHOST STORY COMPETITION THIRD PLACE Final Performance by Ted Greenwood, from Southend

WITH the audience still applauding his amazing escape from chains and manacles, the maestro staggered from the stage, collapsed in the wings, and died from a massive heart attack. The Phoenix, escapologist and mystic, would never again grace the palaces of Edwardian variety.

The night attendant at Whitechapel morgue, one Arnold Schrim, re-wrapped his half eaten sandwich and with a muttered curse, rose to answer the outside bell's clanging summons. November fog swirled about him as he swung open the heavy gates. The iron stop post dragged noisily over the cobbles. Patient, the old horse plodded across the courtyard, indifferent to the swaying of the hearse.

"Keep an eye on this one Schrimmy," joked the cloaked figure of the coachman, as he pulled to a halt under a flickering gas lamp. "He's a famous escape artist."

With a wry grin, Schrim took one end of the canvas stretcher. Between them, the two men transported the corpse inside and onto the mortuary slab. "I'll see to him now." The mortician appeared unusually solicitous. "You get off home."

Once alone, Arnold Schrim, a mean and godless man, got down to business.

"Escapologist, eh? Well there's no escaping from here!" He looped a numbered card over the lifeless foot. "Before we pop you into box thirteen, let's see what you've got for Uncle Arnold." But an initial search proved fruitless. George Strange, alias The Phoenix, had died in his spangled costume, his possessions were in the safe at the Empire Theatre. He wore no rings or medallions. Tutting with annoyance, Schrim leaned on the corpse's chest and rudely parted the lips. His sharp eyes detected a few gold fillings. With a satisfied smirk, he drew his pliers from his apron pocket. Without warning, the body emitted a low, menacing growl. The mortician paused, dismissed the sound as trapped wind, and prised open the mouth.

Unnoticed, the right hand of The Phoenix flexed and lifted. With lightning precision it grasped the mortician's wrist. The grip was that of a steel trap, the pliers clattered to the tiled floor. Staring eyes held Schrim transfixed.

The coroner arrived at nine am. Walter Smith was then on duty, and George Strange's body, still in theatrical garb, remained on the mortuary slab. Unjustly reprimanded, Smith protested that the night man had failed to put the corpse away and had gone home, leaving the mortuary unattended. "The body belongs in a chamber." Came the brusque and unsympathetic response. "Cover it decently and put it in thirteen until I can attend to it." Wally Smith hurried to comply, only to announce that berth thirteen was already occupied. The coroner, angered by this apparent further incompetence, demanded to know the identity of thirteen's unrecorded cadaver. With a rattle of iron casters, Smith fully opened the drawer. As he drew back the shroud, both men recoiled in horror.

Arnold Schrim, his face a mask of terror and his open mouth displaying bloody and toothless gums, stared starkly up at them.

Pensioners enjoy a Christmas meal

By Karen Davis

MORE than 60 members of Southend Southchurch Salvation Army's over-60s club sat down to an early Christmas lunch last week.

They were served a traditional Christmas meal, with turkey and all the trimmings, followed by Christmas pudding and mince pies.

Carol singing and seasonal entertainment followed.

Hard-working volunteers at Southchurch Salvation Army cooked more than 100 turkey portions and eight large Christmas puddings so their guests could enjoy a meal.

Club secretary Jill Girling said: "Our club members really look forward to their Christmas meal every year.

"Some of them do have families with whom they can share the Christmas season, but quite a few of them will be alone over Christmas.

"We hope that the time they spend together at the Christmas meal will remind them that whether they're alone or with their families at Christmas, they belong to a larger family within the Christian church where they are much loved and respected."

GENEROUS: Club organiser Jill Girling and corp officer Liz Wood with volunteers Connie Palmer, Sally Smith and Shirley Hedges.

Feeding the needy at Christmas time

MEMBERS of Southchurch Christian Fellowship will be sharing their Christmas Day with over 100 vulnerable people from the Southend area.

Hazel Copping and Jenny Martin will be joined by around 20 volunteers who will be dishing out the brussels and Christmas puddings to visitors at the Plaza Centre, in Southchurch Road on Saturday, December 25.

Many businesses have donated food for the meal, including Rossi ice cream, which is helping with dessert.

A model example

VISITORS to All Saint's Church in Southchurch will not just be treated to a crib scene this festive season - they will be able to view the entire village of Bethlehem.

And what's more, every piece in the scene is there to commemorate an event in one of the congregation's lives.

The 'model village' started 20 years ago as a run-of-the-mill crib scene, but gradually, people began to purchase figures to remember a birth, death or any other significant event in their lives.

Vicar of All Saints, Neil Paxton, said: "It is such a lovely thing to have in the church as every bit of it, from animals to Roman centurions, has been donated by someone."

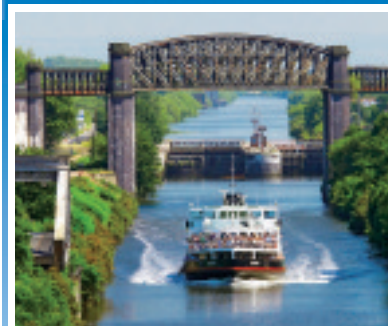

"Every model has a history, which is what makes it special."

Boost for charity

By Karen Davis

A LOCAL association dedicated to voluntary services has been given a boost by Children in Need.

Southend Association of Voluntary Services (SAVS) has announced it has been awarded £105,911 in funding from the nationwide appeal to provide activities for children and young people in Southend.

Youngsters aged eight and upwards living on the Woodgrange Drive Estate and Queensway Estate in Victoria Ward will soon have weekly clubs to keep them occupied in the evenings thanks to the award.

The clubs, which will start early next year, will be run by Turning Tides with the help of a team of local volunteers.

For more information visit www.savs-southend.org/turningtides

CELEBRATION: Neighbourhood warden Hayley Duff and Lee Bagnall with Saphron Collison, Shannon Collison, Brandon Franklin and Lee Bagnall.

Countdown star best in class

COUNTDOWN'S Rachel Riley hosted a mass maths lesson with a lucky local school last week.

The TV star appeared via satellite live from Southend High School for Girls.

Ten local schools linked up to the lesson, which was part of the NSPCC Number Day sponsored by Vosene Kids.

More than 1,600 schools throughout the UK took part in the event, with almost 500 participated in breaking the Guinness World Record for the world's biggest maths lesson.

Police hail use of social media

MORE than 18,000 viewers have tuned in to films on Essex Police's YouTube channel.

Films have been watched more than 50,000 times since the channel went live almost a year ago to coincide with the launch of the force's new website.

Police officers, staff and animals star in the films.

David White, Essex Police internet manager, said: "Social media is a value for money way of reaching a wider audience and pushing home our messages."

"The films are designed to give people an insight into the work of their police service and I'm delighted they are popular."

Since January, a new video has been added to the channel every week, ranging from a behind-the-scenes look at the information room to policing at Stansted Airport.

Other films include a 'day in the life' of a scenes of crime officer, a look behind the scenes at the Essex Police laboratory and a warning about the dangers of fake guns.

To see the films, visit www.youtube.com/essexpoliceuk

Essex Police is also keeping residents up to date with latest news and information through Twitter and Audioboo - a website that allows the force to share audio recordings with the public.

New children's centre opened

By Karen Davis

A NEW centre for children was officially opened in Southchurch last week.

The Hamstel Children and Family Centre will offer health and family support services for young people under the age of 19 in the Southchurch area.

The centre, which is run by Sure Start, will join the new Leigh and West Leigh Children's Centres as the third NHS-managed children's centre to open in the borough since October 2009.

The Hamstel Children and Family Centre is situated next door to Hamstel Infant School and Nursery, Hamstel Road, Southchurch.

All services will be open to families with babies and children up to the age of 19.

The Hamstel Children and Family Centre will provide access to the following services:

- Advice and support for parents and carers.
- Child and family health services (including health visitors to breast-feeding support) and a new immunisation clinic.

- Creche facilities, play and early learning for babies and toddlers, family learning and family cooking.

- Help in finding childcare, employment and training, including links with Jobcentre Plus.

- Family fun and a place to meet.

Sarah St Pierre, director of children, young people and families at NHS South East Essex Community Healthcare, said: "I wish the Hamstel Children and Family Centre every success."

"By giving young children access to high quality integrated care and early education and support, Sure Start is helping to improve their life chances and unlock their potential."

"Good, affordable and accessible childcare also enables parents to take up work, education or training and this has a knock-on effect in reducing child poverty."

Families wanting to know more about the new Hamstel Children and Family Centre should call Imelda Callowhill on 07712 095401.

Turning Tides success

THE LATEST Turning Tides Step Forward course drew to a close last week.

All delegates were presented with certificates for completing the course, which was hosted by Turning Tides and funded and delivered by Southend Adult Community College.

The course is designed to help people make the most of their skills and pick up some new ones.

Subjects include healthy eating, money matters, communication and assertiveness.

One of the delegates, Dot Power, said: "Step Forward has helped to turn my life around."

"The course is terrific and has put structure into my life - that's the biggest thing I've got out of it."

"I can highly recommend Step Forward as it has helped me in so many ways. I've met new people and I'll miss coming each week. It's been fun."

The next course is open to anyone living in central Southend and will start on Monday, January 24, then every Monday for the next eight weeks.

If you would like to be involved, call Turning Tides on 01702 356070.

SUCCESS: Tutor Elaine Boarer with Pam Williams, Dot Power, Tracey Hart and Debra Jensen.

Presents stolen

A LEIGH family are facing a miserable Christmas after thieves stole their Christmas presents from a garden cabin.

Thieves entered the garden in Woodside between 9.30pm on Thursday, December 16, and 7.30am the next day, stealing an overhead projector and gifts.

Officers are investigating a potential link after attempted break-ins at nearby properties.

Stopping theft

POLICE in Shoebury and Southchurch have launched Operation Gandalf to help reduce thefts from shops.

Last year, a total of 42 thefts were reported in the Shoebury and Southchurch areas between December 1 and January 5.

Man attacked

A MAN had his jaw broken at the weekend.

Police are appealing for information following the assault in Westcliff on Sunday, December 19.

Police and an ambulance were called to Roots Hall Drive at 12.10am after reports of an assault.

Protect your bank details

SOUTHEND Crime and Disorder Reduction Partnership (CDRP) are warning the public about providing personal and bank account details to cold callers.

A number of charities are now employing agency staff to cold-call residents - either door-to-door or by telephone - with a view to increasing the number of people who subscribe by monthly direct debit payments.

Southend CDRP has been made aware of agency staff who have been setting up direct debit accounts for relatively small sums of money, which is then paid into their own personal bank accounts on a monthly basis.

Few people will actually check their bank statements regularly - a fact that is being exploited by these fraudsters.

Lorna Watson, crime reduction officer, said: "I would advise that details of the receiving account, which should be printed on the direct debit form, are thoroughly checked before completing and handing over the form with your own details.

"The form can be posted back to the charity at a later date and does not need to be completed immediately.

"Anyone agreeing to set up a direct debit by telephone should insist that they be sent the relevant forms for signature before the agreement can be activated by the charity."

Mick Holland, community engagement officer, added: "Whilst it is not the intention of the CDRP to restrict the legitimate fundraising activities of charities, we would strongly advise you to be circumspect about providing banking and personal details to cold callers."

For more information and advice, contact Consumer Direct on 08454 040506.

Festive bling

by Lisa Haynes

DESPITE flashes of rainbow brights and sparkle coming from the high street, somehow we're all drawn back to black during party season.

But this year everyone's favourite colour has undergone a seriously glam makeover.

Think luxurious embellishments like brocade, beading, lace, feathers and decorative studs.

This opulent trend is teeming with texture and tarnished metallics - and the more materials in the mix the better.

Subtle shimmer
Keep your look light and ethereal by opting for sheer fabrics with a shot of metallic detailing or tiny glitzy buttons. Ensure your underwear is either nude or black so you don't disturb the silhouette.

Try: Mango gold print maxi dress, £99.90 (www.shop.mango.com)

Love lace
Black lace adds a gothic dimension. Keep your look festively bright with metallic fabrics that shimmer as you hit the dance floor.

Try: New Look metallic lace dress, £32.99 (0844 499 6690/www.newlook.com)

Flirty feathers
Fly to the top of the Christmas style tree in bird-like feathers. A cape cover-up will give party dresses a sleek and glossy twist.

Try: Accessorize feather cape, £40 (0844 811 0068/www.accessorize.co.uk)

Sequin scatter
Every girl needs a head-turning dress and classic black and gold sequins will deliver every time. Unexpected detailing on sleeves or shoulders will separate you from the sequinned masses.

Try: Monsoon Roxbury Sequin Dress, £150 (0844 811 0068/www.monsoon.co.uk)

Embellish booty
Turn every stride into a gold rush with dazzling embellished booties and make a beeline for fierce chunky shoes.

Try: Office Twinkle Twinkle embellished boots, £85 (0845 058 0777/www.office.co.uk)

Gold rush
For serious opulence, you'll strike gold with brocade. Part military princess, part party goddess, you're sure to have the whole room standing to attention while showing off such bold patterns.

Try: Oasis embellished cardigan, £45 (www.oasis-stores.com)

Halo sparkle
Accessories can add opulent sparkle to any party ensemble and headwear has taken off this season. Try a bling-tastic headband, oversized bow or mini fascinator to add interest.

Try: H&M embellished headband, £7.99 (www.hm.com)

It has built up an enviable reputation thanks to its friendly and welcoming service and its outstanding dishes, which are all freshly prepared for diners using a range of special spices and ingredients.

Its extensive menu includes a wide range of appetisers, as well as a selection of tandoori, balti, biryani, madras, vindaloo, bhuna and rogan dishes. There are also a number of Persian dishes such as Dansak and Pathia, and Saktora dishes cooked Bangladeshi style.

It has a range of special offers which give customers outstanding value-for-money. Its four-course lunch menu, served from Monday to Saturday, costs just £8.95 per person (£2 extra for king prawn and Hash Jalfrezi dishes) and is ideal for business lunches.

Its Sunday buffet, served from noon to 5.30pm, allows diners to eat as much as they like for just £6.95 per person, and just £3.95 for children under the age of 10.

A spot of sunshine all year round at Chiquita

DINERS at a Shoebury restaurant are enjoying a spot of sunshine thanks to its Mediterranean warmth and outstanding cuisine.

Chiquita restaurant, in West Road, has brought a breath of Iberia to Southend for the past nine years.

Its recipe for success is down to its owners, Augustin and Dora Souto, and the support of their staff.

Both Augustin and Dora would like to thank diners for their continued support over the past year and would like to wish them all a Happy Christmas. They would also like to wish everyone all the best for the New Year and hope to see them take their seats again in 2011.

Over the past few weeks many people have been enjoying festive celebrations at Chiquita, and tables for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are fully booked.

However, New Years Eve has a few tables still free so if you haven't already booked your New Year celebrations then why not join Chiquita for an evening to remember.

Anyone interested is urged to call as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

The restaurant, with its traditional décor and menu, is an ideal venue for a family outing, a friendly get together, a romantic evening or, indeed, any celebration.

Chiquita, which can comfortably seat up to 50 people, offers a wide range of excellently prepared traditional Spanish and continental dishes, as well as an impressive sweet trolley.

It has an extensive a la carte menu for diners to choose from including a wide choice of starters and main dishes, and a variety of desserts.

It also has a popular set menu, available from Monday to Friday, which offers a choice of starters, main courses and sweets from the trolley, for just £12.95 per person.

New Years Eve Grand Gala Night at Tandoori Parlour

IT'S now your last chance to book everything from party nights to special banquets at the largest Indian restaurant in Essex this Christmas.

Tandoori Parlour, at 61-63 Hart Road, Thundersley, has been serving up a feast for diners since its party nights began in late November. As they continue until January 2, 2011, there is still a chance to celebrate with family, friends and work colleagues.

The restaurant is the perfect location, thanks to its outstanding menu or buffet deals as well as a doubles for singles drinks promotion throughout the Christmas period.

The restaurant also promises your table for the night, as well as DJ entertainment, hats, crackers and party poppers.

From Sunday to Thursday, up until January 2, 2011, there will be disco and karaoke evenings with resident DJ on both floors, from just £11.95 per person, including starters, main course and dessert, or buffet, with both Indian and English cuisine.

The top restaurant is also open throughout Christmas including Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Years Eve and New Years Day, offering top food and entertainment, as well as a range of deals including FREE food for children under eight.

NEW YEARS EVE GRAND

GALA NIGHT

Its popular New Years Eve Grand Gala Night promises to be an evening to remember as you dance the night away into the early hours. The special evening, which includes entertainment from a Scottish Piper and Drummer, as well as a top radio DJ, also offers a four-course special gourmet meal and free champagne to see in the New Year, as well as a doubles for singles drinks promotion.

Its Christmas Eve Electric

Party Night is ideal for all the family, with a four-course meal or buffet. The evening, which includes DJ entertainment, costs just £14.95 per person, or £7.95 for children aged from eight to 12. Youngsters under the age of eight eat for FREE, and you will also enjoy complimentary hats, crackers and novelties.

Its Christmas Day Banquet, from noon to 5pm, includes both traditional Christmas cuisine and Indian food. Guests, who can enjoy their table for the whole day, can choose to enjoy a four course traditional Christmas dinner or an Indian meal, or enjoy both delicious cuisines if they wish. The Christmas Day meal costs £24.95 for adults and £12.95 for children under the age of 12.

The restaurant's Boxing Day Buffet is outstanding value with diners enjoying a silver served starter before helping themselves to as much food as they like from a choice of more than 50 dishes. The buffet evening, which runs from 5.30pm to 11pm and is FREE to children under the age of eight, costs £11.95 per person, or £5.95 for children aged from eight to 12.

Its New Years Day special silver served buffet, which will be marking the first day of 2011 in style, is FREE for children under the age of eight, and just £12.95 for adults and £6.95 for children aged eight to 12.

Tandoori Parlour, which can seat more than 400 people, has outstanding facilities including a Crystal Room, a cocktail bar, dance floor and stage area.

Christmas quotes

What the famous get up to during the festive time

WILL FERRELL, 43, HOLLYWOOD ACTOR

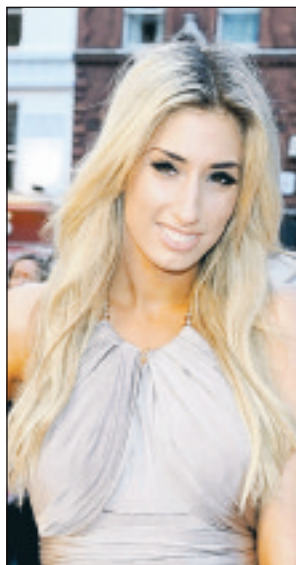

"WE'VE got no major traditions - I think we're just going to stay at home and have some quiet family time, which is pretty valuable for us, with my schedule being quite hectic."

"There are no big plans, just having some friends and family around and opening way too many presents for the kids. Obviously, I would love to get a brand new helicopter because my old one is getting worn out!"

MIRANDA HART, 38, COMEDIAN
"FOR a couple of years running we had a massive inflatable Father Christmas. You pressed something and it blew up with air and every time someone came round we'd say, 'Someone's come to visit' and then slowly Father Christmas would inflate."

LEE MACK, 42, COMEDIAN
"AS a kid, the tradition bizarrely was that my mum would always give us a bottle of Lucozade, the old-fashioned type when you used to get gold paper around the bottle."

"Lucozade was only available in chemists, it was a drink you got when you were ill. Then some clever marketing bloke went, 'Hang on, why don't we market this as a soft drink?' and it became a sports energy drink. It was seen as almost a treat when you were ill, so my mum used to say, 'Well you can have it for Christmas as well'. And then it burst one year and went all over the presents and ruined them."

STACEY SOLOMON, 21, SINGER/ I'M A CELEBRITY ... WINNER
"I'll probably be staying at my mum's house and getting my presents in my pillowcase as always."

It's definitely a tradition.

"We never do stockings. I always get an orange from my dad, and you know what it is because it's wrapped up all round. Thanks Dad! I got a Barbie house when I was really little, and I could fit in it. I squeezed myself into it. I loved it! It had glass windows, it was all pink but I didn't get the car to go with it though. I'm obsessed with pink."

STEPHEN K AMOS, 42, COMEDIAN

"One of the most peculiar traditions is that we are all supposed to go to our families over Christmas. When I first rang my mum, about eight or nine years ago, to tell her I wasn't coming for Christmas, you would have thought I had told her the world had come to an end, it was weird. Since then I've spent Christmas with a good friend of mine. We alternate it, we either go to my house or hers, we buy loads of food, loads of drink, we talk nonsense and there's no stress."

GEORGIE HENLEY, 15, NARNIA STAR

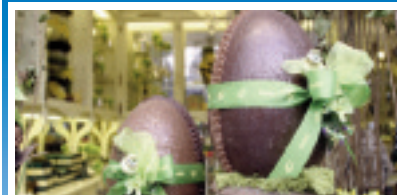

"I ALWAYS put out a carrot and a glass of milk for Rudolph and a mince pie and a sherry for Santa. We put it by the fireplace and when we go down on Christmas Day, my dad always stops on the steps on the way down and says, 'Wait, I've just got to check that Santa's still not here' and we go, 'Aw Da-ad'."

That's a nice tradition that I think will carry on. The carrot's always eaten, so is the mince pie, the sherry is also very much drunk!"

OLLY MURS, 26, SINGER
"CHRISTMAS for me is about being at home with the family, home-made dinner, home-made trifle, EastEnders special, Only Fools and Horses and Home Alone 1 or 2... I'm looking forward to buying them presents this year. It's been two years since I bought my mum and dad and my family presents, but this year I've been able to buy them a present or two. I can't remember my best present but what I'd really like to receive this year is a girlfriend! I'd like to find the love of my life at Christmas. Is that possible?"

TINIE TEMPAH, 22, RAPPER
"My main priority is just to be with my family for Christmas because I have to go to Australia two days after, for a couple of weeks to do some touring. So I want to make sure that on Christmas Day, I'm with my family in the family house. I have my bit of turkey - I normally like the leg - and take it easy and relax. I'll wear my sweater and watch some quality TV. My best Christmas present wasn't anything material. It was this one Christmas when all the family were together in the house, including cousins, aunts and uncles. It was really heaven but I appreciated that."

Vehicle Dismantlers

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any
advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republishing or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for the advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication.
Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.
